SSC Board of Regents Meeting Highlights Seven-Year Achievements

The Seminole State College Board of Regents convened Thursday, Jan. 22, for the first time in the New Year. At their January meeting, the SSC Board heard of enrollment increases and approved terms of employment of the president.

Under the only item of business, the SSC Board of Regents retired to executive session to review and consider the terms of employment of Dr. Jim Utterback as the president of Seminole State College.

Following a return to open session, Utterback addressed the audience and Board saying that last year he had stressed to the Board that the College was facing the worst budget cuts in history and due to the bleak outlook, he declined to accept additional compensation.

"Last July, when employee contracts were issued, we were not able to give raises. It has been my goal to still award the annual step raises during this budget year. I again wish to defer any raise in my level of compensation until we are able to award raises to our employees," Utterback said.

"We have consistently made it clear on every level, in every way that we could, that what we believe is important in life is not all of these new roofs, heating and air conditioning systems, parking lots and new buildings – but it is our people. We need to take care of them and put them first," Utterback added.

Board members expressed appreciation for Utterback's comments and spoke of their strong support for the President.

Regent Derrill Cody of Norman told the President, "In executive session, the Board

Special Guests Visit SSC

Congressman Ernest Istook Visits Call Center

U.S. Congressman Ernest Istook was on the Seminole State College campus for a Town Hall Meeting on Jan. 9. Before the event, Istook, along with SSC President Dr. Jim Utterback and Washington D.C. Consultant Suzie Brewster and Associates, took time to tour the new call center, 4CNet, located in the Enoch Kelly Haney Center. The College's Haney Center serves as an incubator for the newly-recruited Seminole business. The Seminole Economic Development Council, Kiamichi Development Company and Seminole State College joined forces to help attract the new business to Seminole.

reflected over your accomplishments, not only this year, but since you came to Seminole. You enjoy the complete support of this Board. We view this as a team. You have our support and appreciation for the work you have done. I have enjoyed working with you, and look forward to working with you for many years into the future.”

Regent Jon Flowers of Shawnee said that the Board felt the President was doing a good job and wanted to give Utterback a raise this year. “But, I was pleased to hear from you that you are not requesting one... that your priorities are more for getting a raise for your faculty and staff,” Flowers said.

Board Chair Dale Nichols of Wewoka said it is a pleasure to serve on the SSC Board and work with Dr. Utterback. “It is an opportunity for all of us to come together and work to build and improve this College. We are fortunate to have Seminole State College as a great asset for this area. I think with Dr. Utterback’s leadership we will continue to move forward,” Nichols said.

Seminole Regents David Wilson and Roger Nansel added their comments of support. “Speaking as a member of this community, I feel that we have been lucky to have Jim here. Jim, I appreciate where your heart is, and I want to voice my full support of you,” Wilson said.

Nansel added, “You never really know how good you and your staff are until times get tough. It is great that you have been able to maintain the great reputation of this community college during very tough funding times. You and your staff are to be commended on a job well done.”

Following a unanimous vote to renew the President’s contract, Utterback thanked the Board and his staff for their efforts in helping the College reach milestone achievements over the past seven years. Utterback has served as the College’s president since January, 1997. (See Boxed Information)

“As we reflect on Seminole State College’s accomplishments in the last seven years, I am mindful that we have a fantastic team working at the College. From Regents, administrators, faculty, staff and students to community supporters, hundreds of people have had a role in our successes. I hope everyone associated with Seminole State College shares the pride I feel in what we have accomplished,” Utterback said.

Earlier in the meeting, during the President’s report to the Board, Utterback provided information on the statewide hiring freeze, the SSC chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP), the College’s Title IX Compliance, Higher Education Day at the Capitol, the Seminole Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet, the new call center located in the SSC Haney Center, and the College’s enrollment status.

The President shared reporting forms related to the State Hiring Freeze with the Board. He also informed the Regents that SSC Math Instructor Paula Schornick has been transferred to fill the Title III Basic Skills Specialist position. The position became vacant during the fall semester. Utterback informed the Board that the position was advertised internally and is a short-term appointment for the length of the grant.

Next, Utterback addressed issues discussed at the December Board meeting.

Utterback reported information collected by the College’s attorney Ed Cadenhead regarding the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) and the College’s Title IX Compliance.

Utterback explained that AAUP’s stated mission is to advance academic freedom and to define fundamental professional values for higher education, as well as to ensure

Funding for seven projects for Seminole State College and the cities of Seminole and Wewoka were announced by a US senator in January.

College and city officials say they had wind of the funding when they were passed by the US Congress before Christmas.

The funds were appropriated when the Omnibus Appropriations bill was approved by the US Senate, announced Senator James Inhofe.

The funding was first announced before Christmas by Ernest Istook when it was passed by Congress.

Seminole benefits the most from the Omnibus Appropriations bill, $2.9 million.

“We gave Istook a wish list and he fulfilled it all of it and asked for another,” said Seminole Mayor Billy Choate.

The big ticket item is $2 million for upgrading US 377 and the creation of a “spur.”

US 377, also known as SH 99, is scheduled to be widened from Ada to I-40, and is touted as increasing north-south traffic through Seminole.

Choate believes a “spur” will be necessary to take the heavy traffic around the main part of Seminole.

“There’s no concrete plans for a spur,” Choate said this morning.

“At least Oklahoma Department of Transportation said they aren’t aware of any.

“But it’s an obvious problem. We can’t send semis down the middle of Seminole and we can’t widen Milt Phillips Avenue.”

He believes a “spur” will be necessary, probably east from US 377 along Goodhope Road and south on Harvey until it swings back west to rejoin US 377.

Harvey would have to be extended from the new supercenter north to meet Goodhope, but Choate said that is likely to happen anyway as business springs up around the supercenter.

The mayor said the spur, as it comes down Harvey Road, will come within a couple of blocks of the new Magnolia Lake park project, making the park more visible and an even better public relations tool for Seminole.

According to Inhofe’s press release and Choate, Seminole will receive $200,000 to get water and sewer to an industrial park planned on Goodhope Road and $500,000 for improvements to Goodhope Road, which Inhofe’s press release refers to as “an industrial road.”

A $250,000 appropriation to Rural Enterprises Inc. will be passed through to Seminole, the press release said.

higher education's contribution to the common good.

Last month, a question arose at the Board meeting concerning the organization's ability to negotiate compensation issues. Cadenhead's research revealed that although the organization does take part in collective bargaining in some states, it does not engage in collective bargaining in Oklahoma. He cited an Attorney General's Opinion that Oklahoma State law does not authorize public employees to bargain collectively, with the exception of public school teachers, police and firefighters.

"As we understand, the AAUP serves as an organization that promotes higher standards and encourages academic freedom," Cadenhead said. "Since Seminole State College employees are not authorized under State law to bargain collectively, we see this organization as a group of professionals working to define their profession's objectives, standards and goals."

Next, the President updated the Regents on the College's compliance with the 1972 Title IX federal legislation which bans sex discrimination in public colleges.

Utterback discussed highlights of the College's "Report on the Progress Toward Gender Equity in Athletics" prepared by SSC Athletic Director Rusty Beene last November. The report detailed information regarding number of scholarships, coaches' salaries, and types of practice and playing facilities for men's and women's sports at the College. The report also included results of surveys of men's and women's sports offered at area high schools, taken in order to determine the level of interest in specific sports.

Cadenhead also commented on research he had done in regard to the College's compliance.

"We have reviewed numerous reports by the Office of Civil Rights wherein it has investigated various Colleges and Universities and cited the institutions with deficiencies in Title IX compliance. In comparison, we feel very comfortable with the strides made by SSC," Cadenhead said.

The President then invited the Regents to attend Higher Education Day at the Capitol scheduled for Tuesday, March 9, and the Seminole Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet, scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 26. Special guest speaker for the chamber event will be Oklahoma's First Lady Kim Henry.

Next, Utterback updated the Regents on the new call center operating in a temporary incubator site in the College's Haney Center. The call center, 4CNet, opened on Dec. 15 with 16 customer service representatives, one trainer and one supervisor. An additional 13 employees were hired on Jan. 5, bringing their total employment to 31. Plans are to continue to expand the operation and add more employees.

The Board received a copy of a letter from Charles Cayton, Chief Operating Officer of the Kiamichi Development Company (KDC) which assisted SSC and the Seminole Economic Development Council (SEDC) in bringing 4CNet to Seminole. Cayton complimented the College's staff on their efforts to prepare the site in a short time frame in order to meet the company's deadline. He also complimented the SSC Board of Regents for supporting the project by approving expenditures of the College's federal technology grant money for this purpose.

The letter stated, "One of our senior staff members, with 20+ years in the call center business, commented that he had never been involved in a smoother start up.

"I have worked with many communities on a variety of economic development projects and I do not know of another entity that could have moved as fast as you did.

"Because of the effort and support of Seminole State College, the center is open and people have jobs that are supporting families."

Utterback commented the success in recruiting the company to Seminole was the result of a cooperative effort between the College, KDC and SEDC.

"As a part of our mission as a community college, we are constantly looking for ways to help improve the economic climate of our service area. This opportunity to help the community is a good example of what can be done when community leaders, elected officials and our great staff work together," Utterback said.

Next, Utterback informed the Regents of the College's final fall and preliminary spring enrollment numbers for both Full-Time Equivalence (FTE) and headcount. The final fall Headcount was 2,237 – an 8% increase over Fall, 2002. Fall FTE increased 10% over last year – reaching 1,518.

Headcount enrollment for Spring, as of Feb. 20, was 1,903, with an FTE of 1,335, Utterback said that these numbers will continue to grow with the addition of cooperative agreement enrollments from area technology centers, and short-term classes offered throughout the semester. "By all indications, this will be a record-breaking Spring semester. For the first time in the history of the institution, we anticipate over 2,000 students will be attending Seminole State College during the Spring term," Utterback said.

Board members present at the meeting included: Nichols, Cody, Flowers, William Harrison, Jr., Nansel and Wilson.

The SSC Board of Regents' next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 26, 2004.

The Omnibus bill awards Wewoka $250,000 for street repairs to US 270 and adjoining streets, City Manager Rick Bourque explained.

Seminole State College gets $300,000 for equipment at the Haney Center and $50,000 for student support in the Fast Track nursing program.

"This is fantastic news," said SSC's Dr. Jim Utterback this morning.

"It's exactly the kind of money we used to set up the call center. It helps further our goal to train a workforce for Seminole."

Utterback said the critical shortage of nurses statewide will be helped by the Fast Track nursing program, which gives nurses with LPN degrees a quick way to become registered nurses.

"We appreciate Congressman Istook and Senator Inhofe's hard work," he added.
