   A. Learn about the Process of Creating Course Outcomes and Objectives for Face-to-Face Courses on Campus – lesson presented by Rayshell and Christal. – Kelli McBride presented on how online classes have been revising Learning Outcomes based on Quality Matters rubric and Bloom's Taxonomy. She explained the way we use Course Outcomes, Course Objectives, and Learning Objectives (sometimes called Competencies). Course Outcomes concern what's covered in the course as a whole, and Course Objectives breakdown what students will be graded on while Learning Objectives are how they will be graded. The Learning Objectives must be measurable and assessable either formatively or summatively. Kelli McBride will come to next ASLC meeting to practice revising Learning Objectives.
