ESPORTS! Coming to Seminole State College

Esports has emerged as a prominent industry with a substantial and growing viewership, rivaling traditional sports. Collegiate Esports programs are increasingly popular, reflecting the recognition of Esports as a legitimate extracurricular activity. According to the National Association of Collegiate Esports, there are currently more than 130 active collegiate varsity Esports teams, and in 2019, nearly $15 million in scholarships were given to students for athletic scholarships for Esports players.

Employment opportunities in Esports vary from gamers to writers, bloggers, event planners, team managers, multimedia graphic designers, and social media managers” (2020). While institutions across the nation are beginning to develop esports academic degree programs, currently only 11 institutions nationwide offer college degrees in Esports.

Seminole State College will offer two Esports theory courses during the Fall 2025 semester: Introduction to Esports and Esports Communication. During the spring 2026 semester, two Esports practicum courses will be offered: Introduction to Game Development and Multimedia Development. The Esports Lab will open Fall 2026 with recruitment of an Esports Team starting the spring 2026 semester! An Esports program at Seminole State College offers numerous benefits: increased student engagement, team skills development, increase leadership development opportunities, and enhanced technological proficiency. It will also complement existing academic programs, creating interdisciplinary connections and real-world applications for learning. Stay tuned for more information. For additional information, visit the NASNTI offices, located in the SSC Library, room 123. (Esports logo designed by SSC Director of Communications, Joshua Hutton)

2nd Mental Health and Virtual Counselor available onsite every Tuesday

SSC NASNTI has expanded available mental health counseling services to every Thursday and every Tuesday! Welcome Dr. Donna Autrey, a Licensed Professional Counselor, who will be on site every Tuesday. Dr. Autrey shares her story of why she became a mental health counselor. “My home life as a child was not free from struggle due to an alcoholic parent that led to a dysfunctional home. I developed intense anxiety in college and continue to struggle with social anxiety. Both my experiences in my family of origin, mental health struggles, and being a college student without any home support have built a passion in me to see students succeed and overcome their own circumstances.”
